

MINERAL

a companion for the creative psyche

DESIGN SYSTEM & SCREENS

V1 · MAY 2026

WHAT THIS IS

A practice, not a product.

A guided initiatory field for creative transformation.

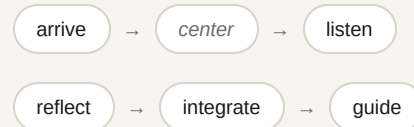

Mineral is a daily practice app that walks alongside creatives reckoning with their creative callings. The work draws on Integral and Transpersonal Psychology, Aperspectival structures of consciousness, and arts-based research.

Each day is an encounter — a short voice guide, a reflection, and a small integration practice. Over time, the user's responses become field notes, which the system reflects back as a field guide — a living mirror of the patterns moving through their creative psyche.

The architecture is fractal: the same shape — four cardinal Aperspectival structures around an integral still point — appears at three scales. A daily encounter sits inside a phase of the journey, which sits inside the user's 28-year life cycle. One geometry, learned once, deepens.

The product is not a coaching program, a creativity course, or a productivity system. It is a place to enter daily to reconnect with oneself.

WHAT THE USER EXPERIENCES

THE FOUR TABS

Today	The daily encounter. Arrive, listen, reflect, integrate.
Notes	Quick capture of signals — dreams, sparks, resistances, symbols.
Guide	Patterns reflected back. Five lenses on the user's field.
Origin	The spiral life map. Signature, cycle, still point.

HOW THE SYSTEM SPEAKS

Eight commitments.

Codifying what Mineral does and does not do.

ONE

The engine counts; it does not interpret.

Frequencies, direct quotes, distributions. Never "your clearest signals" or "blocks that ask to be seen." The user's pattern is the user's to read.

TWO

Meaning-making belongs to the user.

Wider context appears only in "from the field" offerings — visually distinct, plain-voiced, plural in possibility, always located in others' observations ("has been read as") rather than diagnoses.

THREE

One gesture per screen.

The encounter is six screens, not one scroll. Expansive, ritualistic, no dashboard density. Tabs disappear inside the encounter.

FOUR

Voice-first capture.

Reflection and Notes both default to hold-to-record. Text and image are secondary. The user speaks; the app receives.

FIVE

Fractal geometry, one shape.

Four cardinal Aperspectival structures plus integral center, repeated at three scales: 28-year life cycle, the journey through four phases, today's encounter. Learned once, deepens.

SIX

The user's voice is primary.

Visual hierarchy enforces this. User quotes in serif italic against colored borders. Engine in synthesis sentences. Offerings in lower-opacity sans-serif containers.

SEVEN

Optional everywhere it can be.

Centering, reflections, integration, Human Design, offerings. The encounter has shape but no gates. Users go as deep as the day allows.

EIGHT

Atmosphere is descriptive, not prescriptive.

Today is mythical because the journey says so, not because the engine thinks the user needs mythical content. Calendar facts only.

LANGUAGE AS DESIGN

Twelve words.

Each holds a single role. No overlap, no decoration.

encounter	A daily threshold experience — audio, reflection, integration.	origin	The place. The 28-year wheel — signature in time. Also the fourth tab.
reflect	The verb. To respond, in voice or text, to a question.	phase	One of four positions on the spiral: Signal, Field, Friction, Voice.
field note	The noun. A captured signal — dream, spark, resistance, symbol.	turn	One full revolution through all four phases. Spiral continues; depth grows.
field	The collective territory of the user's captures.	cycle	One 28-year arc of the spiral life map, anchored to birth year.
center	The verb. Tap the pendulum, return to stillness before the encounter.	taking root	Guide eyebrow state when a fresh reflection has just landed.
still point	The noun. The integral position at the spiral's center.	from the field	Label for optional inline offerings — wider context the user can take or leave.

NAMING RULE

"Reflect" is the verb; "field note" is the noun. The user reflects, producing field notes. Never invert. Never use "journal," "entry," or "log."

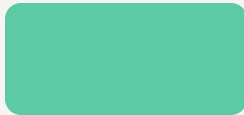

THE ATMOSPHERE SYSTEM

Five accents, one geometry.

Each accent names an Aperspectival structure of consciousness. The whole screen tints to today's atmosphere.

BACKGROUND GRADIENTS

Each phase has its own deep-tone background, derived from the accent. The screen feels different depending on where the user is.

VOICE COLORS (GUIDE LENSES)

Each of the five lenses gets its own accent. These do not have to map to the Aperspectival structures; they earn distinct identity.

TWO REGISTERS, ONE SYSTEM

Sans for the system, serif for the soul.

A geometric sans handles structure and identity. A serif italic handles the poetic — questions, quotes, captions.

SANS FAMILY · SUGGESTED

A geometric humanist sans with a strong personality. Söhne, GT Walsheim, or Inter all work. Avoid generic system sans for production builds.

WEIGHT RULES

Body and titles use 500 (medium) — never bold. Heaviness is achieved through scale and contrast, not weight. Serif italic is always 400.

SERIF FAMILY · SUGGESTED

A serif with a meaningful italic. GT Sectra, Tiempos Headline, or Iowan Old Style in italic. The italic must feel personal, not decorative.

CASE RULES

Titles and headers in sentence case. Tab labels and navigation in lowercase. Eyebrows and small metadata in UPPERCASE with wide tracking (0.22em).

FROM THE FIELD — VOICE SPEC

When Mineral offers wider context (myth, archetype, psychology), the offering appears inline, clearly labeled, plain-voiced.

○ FROM THE FIELD

In mythic literature, the threshold has been read as the moment of crossing — where one identity ends and another begins. It appears in initiation stories across cultures, often guarded.

WRITING RULES FOR OFFERINGS

Use passive locating constructions ("has been read as," "has been associated with"). Plural rather than singular ("often guarded" not "is guarded"). Never name what this user is doing — only what others have observed about the image.

THE JOURNEY

Four phases on the spiral.

The user walks four cardinal positions on the spiral. Each turn deepens. Phase V — The Next Turn — is the transition into the next revolution, carrying the integration of all four phases.

PHASE	DIRECTION	TITLE	THEMES & TONE
I	North · Archaic	The Signal	Something is calling. Longing, identity, resonance, lineage, permission, vocation, devotion. Tone: awakening, magnetic, intimate.
II	East · Magical	The Field	Learn the ecology of your creativity. Energy, environment, inspiration, rhythm, emotional weather, resistance, synchronicity. Tone: curious, observant, exploratory.
III	South · Mythical	The Friction	The work meets resistance. Perfectionism, fear of visibility, fragmentation, ambition, control, burnout, grief — balanced with beauty, devotion, breakthroughs, flow. Tone: honest, transformational, resilient.
IV	West · Mental	The Voice	Expression becomes embodiment. Communication, leadership, visibility, relationships, contribution, creative authority, magnetism. Tone: alive, expressive, relational.
V	Center · Integral	The Next Turn	You become the environment. Integration, mentorship, generosity, sustainability, legacy, stewardship, living the work. Tone: spacious, grounded, luminous. Not a standalone phase — the crossing into the next revolution of the spiral.

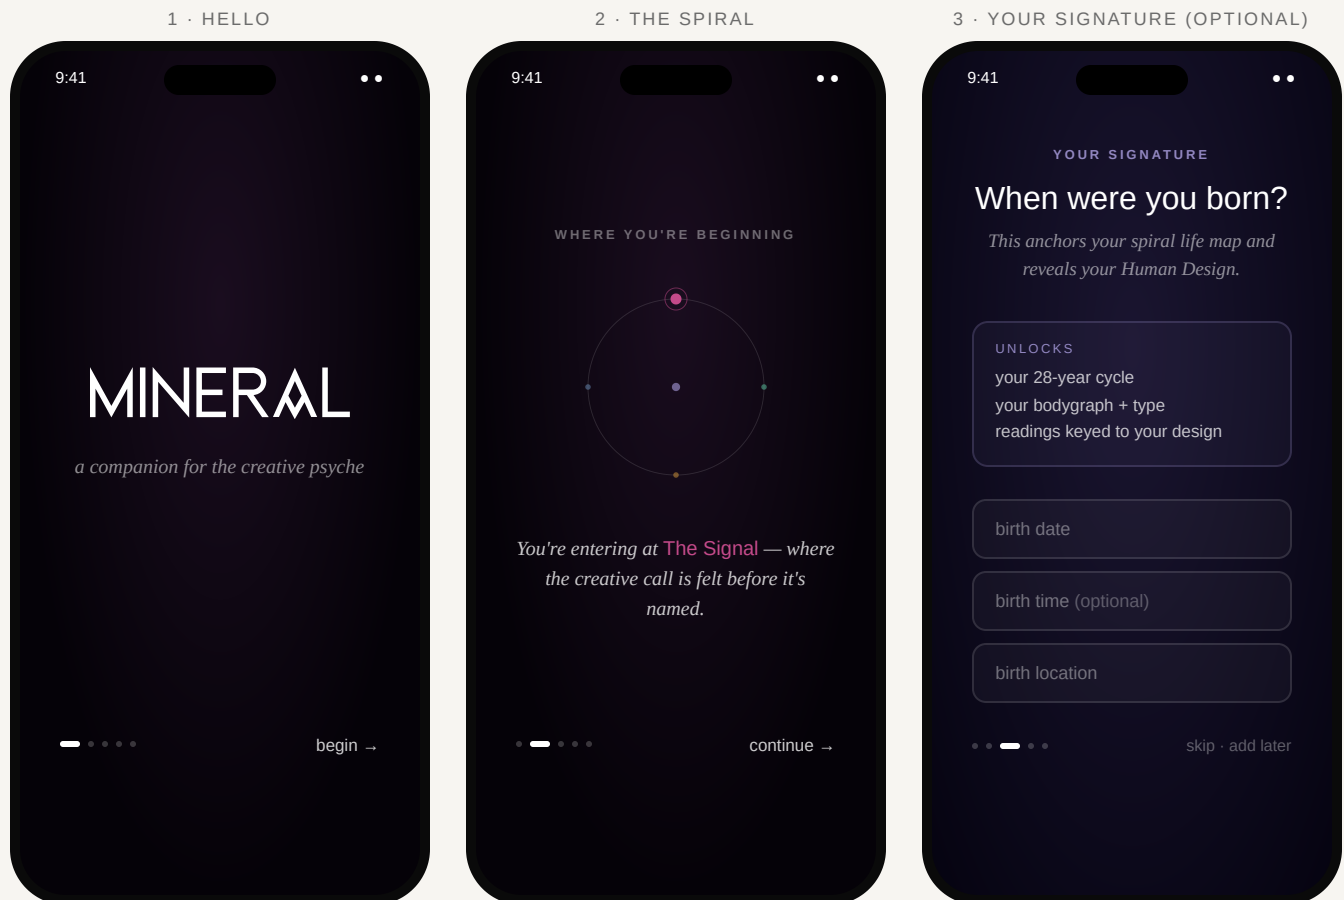

THE SPIRAL CONTINUES

Through Phase V, the user returns to The Signal — but at a deeper turn. The spiral does not end. Tempo is not enforced by calendar; the engine paces by depth of engagement, not days elapsed.

FIRST MEETING

Five screens to the threshold.

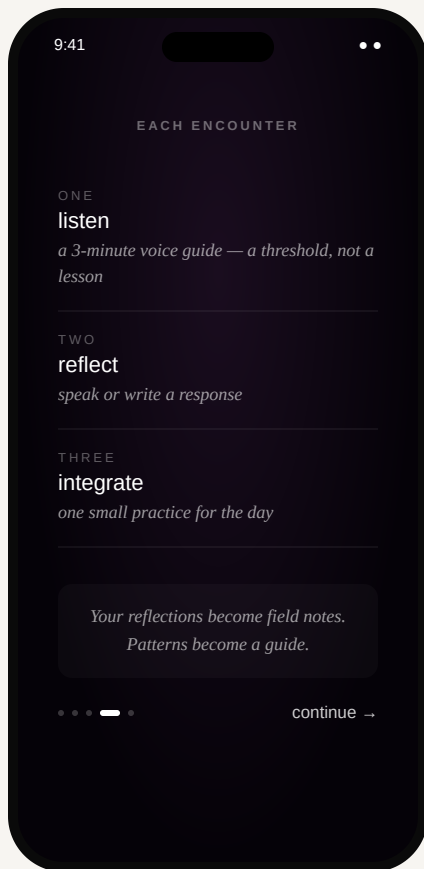

Each screen does one thing. Human Design is offered with a clear value pitch and a one-tap skip.

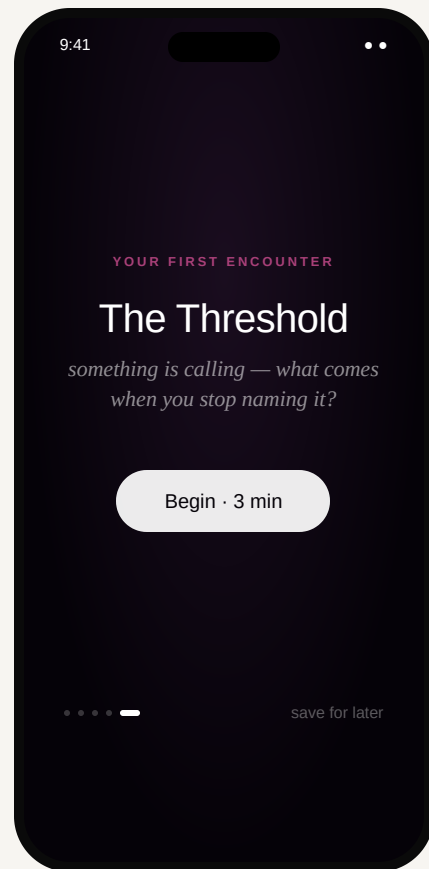

The mark and the tagline. Nothing more.

North glowing. The wheel introduced through their starting position.

Optional Human Design step. Skip is one tap.

The shape of each daily practice, named in three steps.

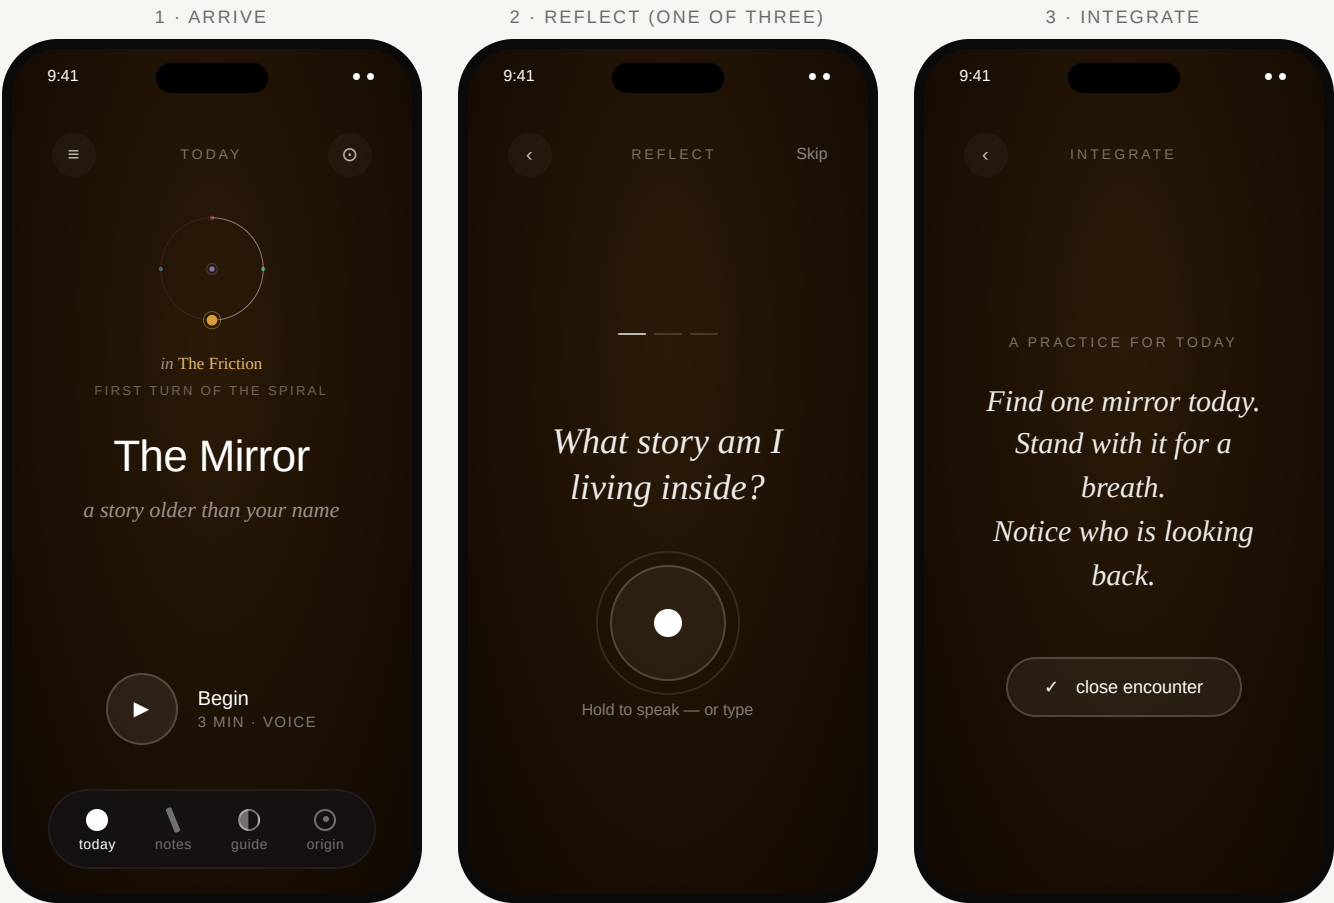

The first encounter. Tap → into the encounter flow.

THE ENCOUNTER

Six screens, one ritual.

Arrive → center (optional) → listen → reflect → integrate → land in guide. Tabs hide inside the encounter.

Spiral + title + listen. Tap pendulum at center → optional centering moment.

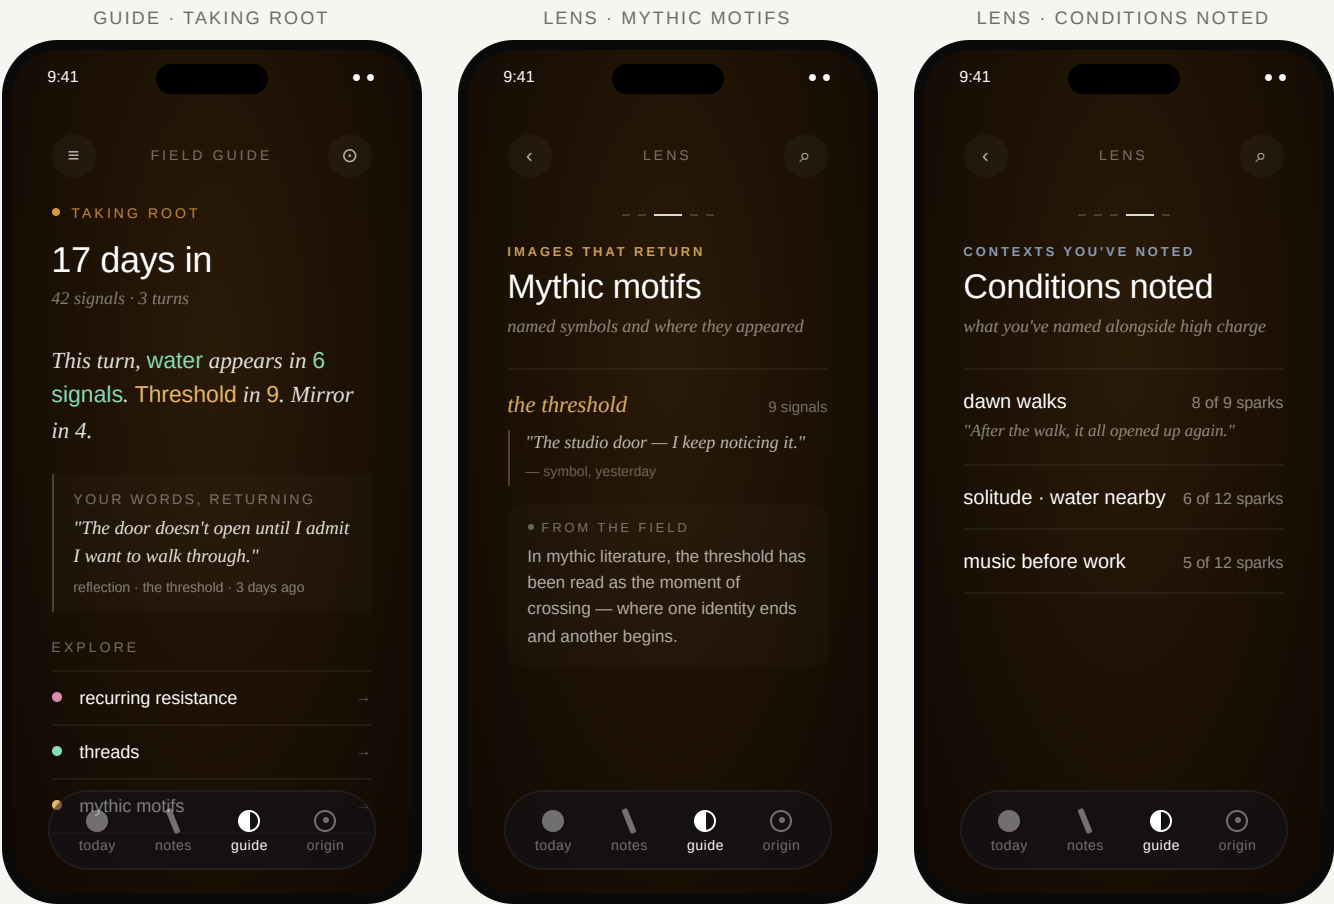

One question per screen, voice-first. All reflections optional.

One practice. One CTA: close encounter.

THE EVOLVING MIRROR

Five lenses, one synthesis.

The Guide reflects patterns in the user's field. Engine counts; never interprets. Optional offerings appear inline as "from the field."

Synthesis sentence (counts only) + the user's own words returning + five lenses.

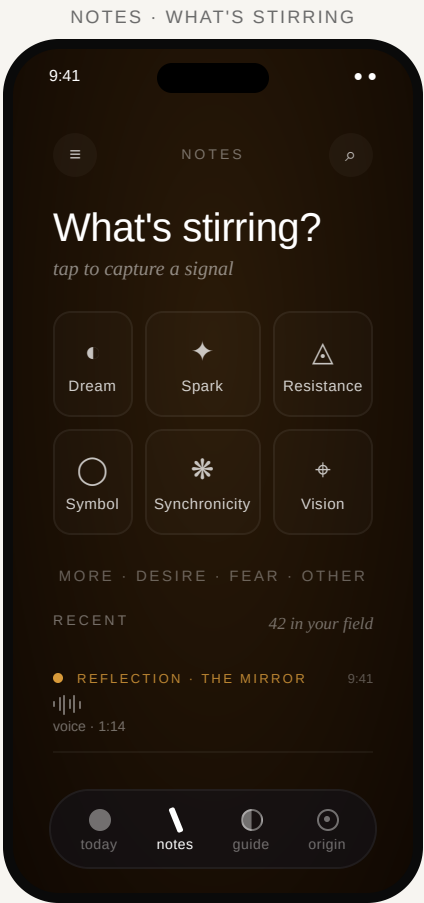

Lens carousel. Each motif: name, count, user's own quote, optional "from the field" offering.

Tally-based, not percentage. "Noted in 8 of 9 sparks" — descriptive only.

CAPTURE & THE SPIRAL

The two anchor tabs.

Notes is for capture, sparsely. Origin is the spiral life map, anchored to birth year.

*Chips above, recent feed below. Voice-first capture.
Reflections from Today appear with amber dot.*

28-year cycles anchored to birth year. Cycle 1 traveled (outer), cycle 2 in progress (inner). Life events plotted along the spiral.

THREE ENCOUNTERS FREE · THEN FREEMIUM

The free path is real.

First three encounters: full experience. After that, freemium — daily practice always free, depth tools paid.

FREE, ALWAYS

- Daily encounters (listen, reflect, integrate)
- Field notes capture — all 9 chip types
- Chronological Field Guide feed
- Basic Today spiral indicator

MEMBER-ONLY

- The five Field Guide lenses
- "From the field" offerings
- Origin tab — full 28-year spiral life map
- Human Design integration
- Pattern engine (threads, motifs, conditions)

THE INVITATION MOMENT

After the third encounter completes, the user has felt the full practice. On entry to encounter 4, they meet the upgrade moment — plainly written, one option.

THE WORDING

"The practice continues — and Mineral asks for support. Your daily encounters and field notes are always free. To go deeper, you can become a member."

SUGGESTED PRICING

$11/month or $108/year. Single price, no tiers.

ENGINEERING & CONTENT BRIEF

What needs to be built.

A practical reference for engineers and content writers.

CONTENT DATA MODEL

Encounter: title, subtitle, audio file, phase assignment, reflection questions (1-3, all optional), integration practice, optional "from the field" notes on motifs likely to appear.

Field note: type (one of 9 chips), content (text or audio), timestamp, atmosphere/phase captured in, source (spontaneous vs. from-encounter).

From-the-field offering: keyed to a motif, resistance, or condition. Plain-voiced, plural in possibility, never names the user.

PATTERN ENGINE RULES

Counts only: frequency of motifs, recurring phrases, signal type distribution.

Never infer: causality, charge derivation (from content sentiment, not user-rated), psychological diagnoses.

Quote verbatim: when surfacing user words in Guide, use exact phrasing with full attribution (source + date).

Real-time: synthesis sentence updates each new signal; freshness moment is post-encounter only.

ANIMATION SPECS

Atmosphere shifts

When phase changes, background gradient cross-fades over ~1.5s. Subtle, not announcing itself.

Pendulum centering

On tap of still point: cardinal markers fade to 25% opacity over 600ms; pendulum bob settles to center with damped oscillation over ~2s; instruction text fades in at 1s.

Taking root

On post-encounter Guide landing: eyebrow + pulse fade in (200ms); synthesis sentence at 600ms; fresh fragment underline draws left-to-right at 1.4s ease-out; trace panel at 1s; explore rows at 1.6s.

Today spiral

Current position has subtle 3s pulse — outer ring expanding from 100% to 110% radius and back, opacity 50 → 20 → 50.

WHAT V1 SHIPS WITHOUT (FOR NOW)

Note threads/related signals — minimal note detail until usage tells us what's needed.

Library tab — archetypal exploration. Lives inside Guide as a sixth lens in v2.

Community/sharing — Mineral is a private practice in v1. Sharing patterns with practitioners may come later.

Practitioner-side dashboard — currently Firebase direct entry. UI for content authoring comes later.
